See Dr. Moore, Oculist—

For all eye and "glass" troubles. The Oxford, Grants Pass. 587

Funeral Held Sunday—

The funeral of Worthington Kelly, the little boy drowned last week, was very largely attended at the Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon. Touching features were the juvenile pall bearers, the tribute of song by his classmates in Miss Pettibone's room in the public schools, and the kindly words by Captain Marshall of the Salvation Army.

More Fisherman's Luck—

Joe Wharton says there are more kinds of fisherman's luck than that most commonly quoted. He had one of the kinds Sunday. After going several miles to his fishing grounds he got a magnificent specimen of the steelhead family attached to the business end of his tackle, and was having all kinds of sport. The fish was showing all he had in the way of acrobatics, and with a final rush took off all but about 20 feet of Joe's new $7 tapered casting line and started for the sea, leaving the fisherman with the rod and palpitation of the heart. The remnant of the line is going back to the makers, who had guaranteed it.

The second episode of "Neal of the Navy," the Pathe serial, will be shown at the Bijou tonight. Lillian Lorraine and William Courtleigh, who appear in the leading roles in this picture, appear for the first time in this episode. The Pathe News in this program features the late fall fashions for women.

Thirteenth Birthday—

Sunday, October 31, being the 13th birthday of Miss Carmelita Pool, she on Saturday entertained the following guests: Vernetta and Lynetta Quinlan, Marion Sabin, Ragna Anenson, Veona Williams, Amanda Steele, Charilla Tetherow, Hortense Hough, Dorothy Donnell, Josephine Smith, Eva Bratton and Larry Gentner. Many games were played and at 4 o'clock refreshments of doughnuts, cider, grapes, apples and fudge were served.

Back From Exposition—

Mr. and Mrs. Miles McIntyre, Mrs. Dolly and Miss Blood returned Sunday from a trip of several weeks by motorcycle and sidecar, visiting the San Francisco exposition. Complete camp equipment was carried on the machines and sufficient time taken on the way both going and returning to make the trip a really enjoyable one. Weather conditions were most favorable, both en route and at San Francisco.

Small Pilfering—

Sometime between Saturday night and Monday morning the Courier office was entered by unknown persons who helped themselves to small articles, among the lot being a pair of tweezers and a cigar box full of small nails and brads of various sizes. At other times a Yankee screw driver, a Yankee drill, several keys and small amounts of change have disappeared. It appears to be the work of children who entered the office by removing a small window in the rear.

Temperance Sunday Observed—

An unusually interesting and profitable platform meeting closed the celebration of Temperance Sunday yesterday evening at Bethany Presbyterian church. The exercises were in charge of the Christian Endeavor, President Earl Best presiding. The young people's choir rendered two splendid selections, and the speakers of the evening quite excelled themselves in their much appreciated efforts. Rev. Charles W. Hayes, of Portland, who occupied the pulpit in the morning, spoke on substitutes for the saloon, and Prof. R. R. Turner, of Roseburg, upon prohibition—"Watchman, What of the Night?—The Morning Cometh."

WILLIAM FARNUM

In Wilson Barrett's

"The Sign of the Cross"

"The Sign of the Cross," derived from the symbol which to scores of millions has for many centuries borne so profound a significance, has been filmed by the Famous Players Film Co., with an extravagance of scenic and spectacular effects and a faithfulness to the original settings and atmosphere seldom seen in motion pictures. Everything has been done to give the most sumptuous and lavish production to a play which lends itself admirably to spectacular effects, and the result is a film which rivals in splendor any of the classical productions yet presented to the public.

It would be impossible to overestimate the emotional power of the film. In the role of Marcus Superbus, William Farnum is noble and dignified, both in the tender love passages with Marcia or when turning in fierce wrath upon his enemies and calumniators. The production will undoubtedly be conceded the foremost film classic ever produced in America.

STATE LEADER OF AGRICULTURAL WORK VISITS IN THE CITY

M. O. Evans, Jr., of the extension division of the Oregon Agricultural college, spent a few hours in this city yesterday, a guest of Mayor McKinstry. Mr. Evans is acting state leader of county agricultural work and was on his way to Jackson county to visit County Agriculturist Reimer at Talent and his assistant, Mr. Gentner, at Medford.

Mr. Evans states that there are already eleven counties of Oregon employing county agriculturists, although the work has been under way here only two years. The grangers, farmers generally, and the commercial clubs are working hard in several other counties to secure appropriations from the county courts to meet one-half the expense of maintaining county agriculturists. If one half the amount is appropriated by the county court or raised in any other manner it is duplicated from state funds, such duplication not to exceed $2,000 annually, except in counties containing areas of 5,000 square miles or more. Over 1,000 counties in the United States now employ county agriculturists. They are proving of great benefit to the rural population in a number of ways, among which the following might be mentioned:

Organizing and carrying on co-operative marketing of farm products;
Conducting co-operative meetings with farmers in different sections of the counties to demonstrate both cheaper and better methods of land preparation, seedling, cultivation, rotations, etc., of crops already grown and in some cases the superiority of other varieties than those in general use;

Organizing and conducting campaigns for better seed selection, better live stock and the organization of breeding and cow testing associations;
Giving individual advice on farm problems and leading the fight against outbreaks of injurious insects, plant and animal diseases.

Continue Work on Bridge—

More of the 4-inch timbers having arrived, the work of putting a new floor upon the steel bridge over the Rogue is again progressing. It is now completed about half way across.

T. Y. Dean went to Riddle last night to spend a few days with his father.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to all for their kindness and sympathy in our late bereavement, and especially to the Woodmen, classmates, those who helped in recovering the body and for the many beautiful floral offerings.

KLAMATH FALLS FOOTBALL TEAM HERE WEDNESDAY

Wednesday afternoon, the 3rd, the people of this city will have the opportunity of seeing the best football game of the season on the local grounds, when the teams representing the Klamath Falls and Grants Pass high schools will meet. The Klamath team was defeated last Saturday by Ashland by a score of 20 to 0, about the same score as that in the Ashland-Grants Pass game, indicating that the locals and the Klamath teams are pretty well balanced and that the contest between them should be an interesting one. A return game will probably be played at Klamath later in the month.
